

U.S. Law and Legal Writing

Summer Workshop Indiana University 2026

for Pontificia Universidad Católica del Perú Law School

Program Dates: July 13 - 31, 2026 (3 weeks)

Target Participants: 30 Pontificia Universidad Católica del Perú (PUCP) law students

Program Overview

This is a short-term, non-credit professional skills workshop designed to provide PUCP law students with short-term skills training in U.S. legal research and writing methods. Participants will attend on B-1/B-2 visitor visas as this workshop does not constitute a course of study and does not confer academic credit, degrees, or certificates.

The workshop is structured as a professional skills training program with a recreational and avocational purpose, allowing participants to gain exposure to U.S. legal methodologies while visiting Indiana University Bloomington.

Program Fee

Workshop Fee: $1,500 per participant (non-credit)

This flat fee covers instructional costs and program materials. The fee structure accounts for differences in purchasing power and promotes accessibility within the PUCP-IU partnership framework.

Housing and Meals: IU housing and meal options are currently under discussion. We are awaiting information on availability and costs. Additional details will be provided as soon as this information becomes available.

Visa Information

Visa Type: B-1/B-2 Visitor Visa

Participants will enter the United States on B-1/B-2 visitor visas. This workshop qualifies for B-1/B-2 status because:

- The workshop is a short-term training program (19 days)
- No academic credit is awarded

- The program does not constitute enrollment in a course of study
- The purpose is recreational and avocational professional development
- Participants pay fees to attend (no compensation is provided to participants)
- Duration is well under the 90-day limit for B-1/B-2 status

For more information on B-1/B-2 visitor requirements at Indiana University, please refer to: <https://ois.iu.edu/scholars/visitor-visas/index.html>

Important Note: All written exercises, practice activities, and presentations completed during this workshop are for professional skills training purposes only. No grades, academic credits, or formal evaluations will be issued. Participants will receive feedback and guidance to enhance their professional development.
